Capt. Ellis Brewster

Baltimore, February 4, 1812

Dear Friend,

I write a few lines to you informing you of the reception of your letter, 2d of December 1811, containing your friendly advice and that I have come to this place and obtained through a course of law my Negro and tomorrow I am to leave this place with him for the State of Delaware. My expenses and delay have far surpassed my calculation.

I sued Captain Davis for the wages that he has paid to George instead of paying them to you – but we have amicably adjusted the business and I have transferred to Mr. Davis my title to the property which you write that George purchased and send you an estimate of clothes etc that you may know where to find them & deliver them to Mr. Davis. But in case of nonrecovery of said property and clothes, I am not bound to make Mr. Davis any compensation whatever as I consider myself only receiving what is much less than my due.

I now annex an estimate of the property and clothes that George has told me of. At Violet Philip's in Plymouth at the brow of Coles Hill & Lane, the clothes etc. of George (alias) George Thompson
